*Surrey Hills and Rivers exists to deliver the wellbeing benefits of immersive countryside experiences, especially for children. So, as well as providing corporate/adult experiences, Surrey Hills and Rivers particularly specialises in the provision of countryside visits for disadvantaged young people, via schools, youth groups and as a partner under targeted government schemes. The benefits to young people of wholesome days in the countryside are obvious, yet budgets are strictly finite. As providers to Surrey County Council, we are encouraged to partner with the private sector to help secure the continuity of this work in an uncertain future. Every corporate/adult visit supports what we do, and we price in and apply £250 from your booking to commission a free day visit for a group of 5 disadvantaged young people. Your contribution will be allocated to a visit for young people and attributed to your group, and we will share the story of their visit with you. For more information on the Council schemes that we are supporting, the groups that we are serving and what we are providing, please contact Ben Webb, Director of Surrey Hills and Rivers Limited.
